Now is the point where you want to identify a question or a problem that you are interested in addressing with the data for this capstone project. Write down that question in just 1 to 3 sentences so that another person who is as familiar with the dataset as you are would be able to understand and assess it. The goal of this peer assessment is to obtain some feedback from your peers regarding various aspects of your question or problem and to help you make adjustments as necessary.

Write down in 1 to 3 sentences the question or problem that you intend to address for this capstone project.
